

Weddings by Michael

2016

Here at Michael Evans Photography we understand that every wedding is unique and often pretty hectic. We offer a free consultation in the comfort of your own home to discuss exactly what you want to see in your Wedding Album and then you can just enjoy the day while we calmly and expertly capture those precious moments for you.

Anyone can take a photograph but it takes a true professional like Michael to paint artistic pictures with his camera encapsulating all the fleeting emotions of love, romance, joy, beauty, style and fun that is your wedding day. Michaels' vast experience enables him to blend unobtrusively into the background using a fast reportage style whilst also being able to put people at their ease when posing them for more classical portraits.

The packages below are just a guide, we can offer a personal bespoke package to cover all your requirements. Your own package can be one of the below with simple additions or a totally unique one created for you just talk to us.
